

Searching for a Professional Observation and Analysis Lab? Look no further!

We provide

- Professional Planning
- Video Recording Solutions
- Eye Tracking Solutions
- Video Coding Software
- Physiology Recording Devices
- On Site Setup
- Technical Support
- Individual Training
- and much more...

one stop shopping

Research on Behavior - Market Research - Simulation - Training

Mangold's video recording workstations record multiple audio/video channels in sync. The audio/video footage is stored as media files onto the PC's local hard disk and is immediately accessible for further processing.

Years of experience in international lab design make Mangold a professional partner for the realization of your individual lab.

Mangold offers a broad range of professional and certified physiology recording equipment for mobile and stationary use.

The Mangold INTERACT analysis software suite allows for the professional and quick analysis of recorded audio and video footage.

Mangold offers various eye tracking solutions such as head mounted, remote and mobile system packages.

Your Mangold lab integrates equipment and data feeds from 3rd party systems, such as data from simulation environments or sensors that create data in an accessible format.

